THE SCIENCE OF MEDICINE.

GREAT ADVANCES MADE IN THE LAST FEW YEARS.

The Story of a Man Who Has Lately Bean Cured of that Terrible Disease, Locomotor Ataxia.

(From the Philadelphia Record ) Very little is heard by the general public of the great discoveries in med icine, and the countless scores of lives that are saved by the advancing knowledge of medical science. Disases, which a few years ago baffled the most eminent physicians and were believed to be absolutely incurable, succumb to day as readily as the nost triffing ailment. No one, perhaps, has better cause to appreciate this thau Richard A. William, of Bus-tleton, Pa. Mr. William is a retired calico print manufacturer, and before his health began to trouble him he carried on an extensive business both in Bustleton and Holesburg. He is fifty three years of age, has traveled widely, and is a man of more than ordinary education and intelligence A reporter who visited him found him strolling leisurely through the grounds surrounding his pleasant home. Mr. William was at first de cidedly averse to the unwelcome publicity which he felt would follow the story of his case in the newspapers Realizing, however, that it might be he means of bringing relief to others who were suffering as he had suffered he finally consented.
"If it had not been for one of the

ecent discoveries of medical science, believe I would be lying helpless in bed instead of enjoying this stroll," he began. "My troubles really date back to several severe falls I received when a young man, but I suffered no great inconvenience until 1888. My first sensation was great difficulty in walking. As this feeling grew more intense I finally called in a well known physician of Holesburg, who immediately told me that I had locomotor ataxis, and placed me under active treatment. Instead of getting better I seemed to grow worse, and was scarcely able to get around. year after I became his patient he told me that he would have to give me up. He gave me to understand that I must resign myself to a condition of utter helplesness until death came to my relief. At last I got so that I could not walk at all; my imbs went back on me entirely, and I was just able to sit up. I then called in Dr. Bull, then in Philadelphis, and now a resident of Cuicago He recommended sun baths, and I had a sun-perfor erected for the purpose, but my trouble did not yield to such treatment, and finally I abandoned it. In April last, I received a letter from a Mr. Grantier, a friend of mine in E mira, N. Y., telling me how a new medicine called Dr. Williams' Pink Puls was performing astonishing cures to the severest nerve diseses, and advi-ng me to give them a trial. Not knowing the scientific nature of Dr. Williams' remedy, and believing that it was an ordinary mediciae, I was at first inclined not to bother with it. But I reflected that in my miserable condition he could do me no harm at least, and I sent to the drug store and purchased one Lox. After the third box I began our house with ease. I noticed a general improvement in my health from took the matter good naturedly and some specimens so small that they are week to week, and my feet no longer said, upon one occasion: "I am con- able to wear silver bangles, which are feel as they were weighted down with | fined to my bed under Marshall law." lead. I ascribe this wonderful change solely to Pink Pills. My mother very enthusisstic over the pills, and thinks Dr. Williams ought to have his great discovery proclaimed from

They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor atax-ia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after affect of lagrippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all form of weakness either in male or female, and all diseases resulting from vitated humors in the blood, Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, (50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medi-cine Co., Schepectady, N. "I am not," put in Mr. Marshall. With a searching, earnest look at Webb. I am ready," said Marshall. Word was given to fire. The reports of the puwitnesses believed at first that only one shot had been fired. Both went wide of the mark, and neither man was injured. "Give us another shot," shouted Marshall, as he again raised given, the men fired, and Col. Web was observed to slightly stagger. His seconds laid him upon the ground and the surgeon reported that Col. Webb was wounded below the knee. There-

One of his fingers is encircled by a plain gold band and this is the only ring that ap-pears to be upon his hand. But this modest, plain, gold ring is in reality the back of the setting in which reposes one of the handsomest brilliants in the world. The sparkler itself rests on the inside of Gov. Flower's hand. He does not believe in wearing diamond finger rings. He would not wear this one at all, would not even let its plain back of gold be displayed, save for the fact that it is the gift of his wife, and affection for her forbids dispensing with it altogether.
